

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides methods for and compositions of anticancer medicaments. These compositions are comprised of nanoparticles or microparticles 5 produced by antisolvent technology. The particles can be used to treat cancerous tissues in humans or animals.

10

15

20

25